CLASSIFY YOURSELF

DETERMINING YOUR SKIER TYPE IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

Your skier type, height, weight, age, and ski boot sole length are used by the shop technician to determine the release/retention settings of your ski bindings. Consult these descriptions to select your classification. Be sure to provide accurate information. Errors may increase your risk of injury. If from experience, you have been dissatisfied with the release/retention settings that result from your skier classification, mention this to your binding technician.

| TYPE I  | TYPE II  | TYPE III   |
|---|--|--|
| Cautious skiing on smooth slopes of gentle to moderate pitch. Skiers who designate themselves as Type I receive lower than average release/retention settings. This corresponds to an increased risk of inadvertent binding release in order to gain release-ability in a fall. This type also applies to entry- level skiers uncertain of their Classification. | Skiers not classified as Type I or III. Skiers who designate themselves as Type II receive average release/retention settings appropriate foremost recreational skiing. | Fast skiing on slopes of moderate to steep pitch. Skiers who designate themselves as Type III receive higher than average release/retention settings. This corresponds to decreased release-ability in a fall in order to gain a decreased risk of inadvertent binding release. (This classification is not recommended for skiers under 48 lbs.) |
